7 good reasons why you should lease!

Easy and quick to arrange

No unnecessary forms are required; a few basic details are all that is required to arrange your facility. Experienced staff will ensure that the process proceeds smoothly.

Overcome budget limitations

Make the most of your budget by spreading the cost over three or five years and acquire a system that meets your needs fully, rather than that which your budget dictates

Swop – out facility

As your business grows, and technology is constantly changing, you can upgrade your equipment on lease at any point during the term, and either extend the term and keep payments the same or increase the payments. In addition, the term of the lease can be for anything between one and five years, to suit you and the life of the equipment.

Finance the whole system

As computer leasing specialists, we can include all intangible elements of a system in the lease, such as software, training and installation. In addition, we can arrange software only financing in certain instances.

Cash Flow

Spread the cost of your system over its useful working life. Future income generated by the system pays the payments.

No additional security required

The equipment is the only security needed for a leasing contract. Your collateral remains untouched which means you can make of your collateral against future expansion or challenges facing your company.

Take the tax benefits

Leasing is fully allowable against tax. All payments are 100% tax efficient.
